

From Pastor Moira's Desk...

It's just about Easter. As I write this Holy Week is still ahead of us, but since this is the April newsletter, and Easter Sunday is April 4th, I figured it would be ok to talk about my favorite Easter flowers. You're thinking of lilies, but actually no I don't really care for them. They're fussy, needing certain amounts of light and water to be happy, and shedding their bright orange pollen on everything. OK, maybe you're thinking tulips lilacs, hydrangeas, begonias or some other fabulously beautiful and sweet smelling spring flower. But no, my favorite Easter flower is ... dandelions. Yes, dandelions, those bright yellow flowers that creep into every lawn about this time each year; dandelions that turn into white balls of fluff that we pick and whisper our wishes to, casting them into the gentle breezes; dandelions whose greens make a most delicious salad; dandelions that can be turned into wine or made into tea; dandelions that are the first spring pollen and nectar for the bees and other pollinators. Yes, I know, lots of people spend a tremendous amount of time trying to get rid of dandelions. They pluck them, and mow them, and poison them (please don't do that ... it's really not good for the bees and other living things). I even had a neighbor once who would lay down on her stomach and inch her way across the lawn carefully pulling each dandelion up from the roots, day in and day out all spring.

So, you're thinking to yourself, "Pastor, dandelions aren't flowers, they're weeds, and even if they were they're not symbols of Easter." We could spend a lovely long summer's evening drinking iced tea and lemonade and discussing what is a weed, what is a plant, and who gets to decide. But in the meantime, hear me out about why dandelions are great symbols for Jesus' resurrection. The resurrection is God demonstrating to us that life and love are stronger than any of the forces of evil. It's God saying to us that even the worst we can do to each other, even the power of a painful and cruel death, is no match for the fierce, tender, gentle, gracious, abundant love of God. Dandelions are like that too. They're pesky and even if you think you've plucked up the root and gotten rid of it for good, chances are you'll see another two or twenty sprout up nearby. They'll grow in good and bad soil, in clay and sand, in fertile fields and in the middle of your driveway. They'll survive drought, floods, and even all those pesticides we put on them. They're just as relentless as God's love, creeping into places where we think there might not be any room for love, filling fields full of hope and wishes for a better world, sprouting in the least likely places to remind us that God is with us, that God's love will never leave us. The resurrection is not some fragile, temperamental plant like an Easter lily, but much more like a dandelion that comes to remind us each and every year that God's love for us is real, and true, and everlasting. So as we celebrate Easter this year we'll adorn our sanctuaries with lilies, but I'll be thinking of dandelions, of their hope and promise that will sneak into every yard, and every heart, and every corner of creation until God's kingdom comes.

Peace and grace, Pastor Moira

Year of Giving ~ Haiti Allies

Haiti, the poorest country in the western hemisphere, is only 90 minutes from Miami, FL. It was the first slave colony to gain its independence, and has a long history of foreign occupation and exploitation of both the people and natural resources. Haiti also suffers from frequent hurricanes and earthquakes. Aid groups have come in to help and have sometimes done more damage than good. Despite this, the Haitian people are a strong, resilient, and joyful. They are resourceful, loving, and hopeful about building and renewing their country. Haiti Allies works to, "empower Haitians to better their lives and country through education, meal programs, adult literacy, and job creation." Haiti Allies works with Cite Soleil Community School, located in one of the largest slums around Port au Prince, leading trips of mutual learning and exchange to help learn from the wisdom, spirit, and passion of the people of Haiti themselves.

Furnace Fund

Time marches on and the “new” addition is now nearly 20 years old which means so are the boilers that heat the offices, classrooms, bathrooms & gathering room. The furnaces are still working, but it is becoming more difficult to find replacement parts. As we mentioned at the January annual meeting, we are keeping an eye on things and planning for the future replacement of the furnaces, so we have established a furnace fund. If you have discretionary income or would like to make a memorial gift you can help increase the fund so that when we need to replace the furnaces we are prepared. Please make checks to the church and put “Furnace Fund” in the memo. If you have questions, please talk with any member of the Council or Pastor Moira.

Break The Silence Sunday April 25th

Break The Silence Sunday (BTSS) is Pastor Moira's work to help churches better support survivors of rape & sexual violence. Because of covid we didn't have an observance in 2020, and this year we won't have a full BTSS service either. There will, however, be some prayers during worship that honor the reality of sexual violence in our homes, congregations, communities, and around the world, remembering that survivors are our friends, neighbors, and members of our congregation. We will acknowledge the painful reality, and commit ourselves to being a listening people, dedicated to changing the reality of violence in our world. Portions of worship might be difficult and challenging. Please take time to prepare yourself, and ask God for the strength to open your heart so that we might support all survivors, everywhere. If you have questions or concerns, please talk with Pastor Moira.

Continuing worship changes because of covid-19

As we continue with in-person worship, we have made changes to our time together for our collective health and safety. Please talk with Pastor Moira if you have questions:

- ♥ MASKS/FACE COVERINGS ARE REQUIRED (for everyone over age five)
- ♥ we can sing quietly and with masks on
- ♥ social distancing (6' apart from folks you haven't been with during the pandemic)
- ♥ interior doors will remain open whenever possible;
- ♥ hand sanitizer available at every entrance to each of our sanctuaries;
- ♥ no passing of the peace or fellowship time;
- ♥ communion will be changed to limit physical contact;
- ♥ the offering will be collected in plates at each door rather than passing the plates;
- ♥ contact tracing (attendance) records will be taken;
- ♥ other changes might come as we respond to this ever changing virus pandemic.

Our online worship and print worship delivery continues as well. Let's all be gentle, kind, and compassionate with ourselves and one another as we live through these days.
